

NLP Practitioner for Psychologists

Presented By

Master Trainer Jihad Abou Zeid

What is NLP?

Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP) Neuro-linguistic programming (NLP) is a psychological approach that involves analyzing strategies used by successful individuals and applying them to reach a personal goal.

It relates thoughts, language, and patterns of behavior learned through experience to specific outcomes.

Do Clinical psychologists use NLP?

For clinical psychologists, NLP has immediate and specific applications to high quality psychotherapy. Graduates are able to achieve more effective, longer-lasting results by using applications of NLP as a valuable addition to their existing psychotherapy skills.

Through applying NLP in the context of brief, solution-focused therapy, students improve their abilities to read and utilize clients' non-verbal communication and subtle cues, and increase their flexibility to respond using multiple methods for interventions.

Do psychologists use NLP?

Today more Psychologists are enjoying applying their knowledge by discovering NLP, as a field of knowledge, a methodology for modelling excellence, and a collection of advanced communication models which are increasingly finding support in the cognitive sciences.

Those practicing psychologists who do choose to augment their professional and career development with accredited, NLP training significantly improve their personal and professional results.

Work Together

Neuro-Linguistic Programming therapy incorporates NLP, a set of language- and sensory-based interventions and behavior-modification techniques intended to help improve the client's self-awareness, confidence, communication skills, and social actions.

New Generation of NLP

The New Generation of NLP, developed by Jihad Abou Zeid, works much faster than traditional NLP by editing and modifying the filters, which results in very fast change in behavior of the client.

Advanced Time Healing (ATH)

ATH™ (Advanced Time Healing) is a new method of applying NLP therapy to quickly heal traumas, PTSD, Anxiety & fears in clients.

ATH™ has been developed by Jihad Abou Zeid as a result of years of working with clients one on one NLP sessions, and helping them to change their behaviors, and to heal their traumas.

Work Together

This NLP course for Psychologists, is a unique set of methodologies & techniques created and developed by Master Trainer Jihad Abou Zeid, and cannot be found or learned anywhere else.

This is part of the New Generation of NLP, which can take psychology therapy forward to a new and advanced level.

Jihad would love to hear from you and to have a free discussion.

Whatsapp: +44 75371 88830

Click here to find out more about the NLP for Psychologists